

His Will is His Bill

Philippians 4:19 “And my God will meet all your needs according to his glorious riches in Christ Jesus.”

“How in the world are we going to afford camping gear this month? We just filled our propane tank (at least a pound of flesh), and this training is only offered this month for the rest of the year!” I looked at my wife, and we just looked at each other and agreed: If God wants me to be Scoutmaster; He’s going to have to come through.

We found that a decent backpack, sleeping-bag, and two-person tent could cost hundreds of dollars. Not this month, with that gargantuan propane bill.

My wife and I agreed in prayer, “LORD, if you want me to do this, you’re going to have to outfit me.”

The next day I received a call on a floor-buffer that I had for sale. The man came over to buy it, and as loaded it on the truck he told me, “The Holy Spirit told me to put this in the truck.” Now please take note, I haven’t baited him to give me what he tosses into my arms next.

You know what that item was? It was a top-notch military backpack. Then I told him about what my wife and I prayed about. He said, “Oh really? Then why don’t I throw this in.” And he pulled out an extreme weather sleeping bag.

I stuck my head into the door of the house and said, “Amy, what did we pray for last night (The man is listening)?”

She’s painting, and says, “Camping gear.”

I said, “What kind of camping gear did we pray for?”

She said, “Backpack, sleeping bag, and two-person tent.”

I came into the house and held them both up like two prize trout, and she started crying, and okay, so did I. God is awesome! If you’re walking in His will, he’ll buy the pavement.
